Year: 97 Doy: 329

Observer: yasukawa

WEATHER COMMENT: Tue Nov 25 16:56:52 GMT 1997

In moderate cirrus, high cloud cloud layer blanketing eastern part of island to a level just below observatory, cleared clouds just around a half-mile from observatory. 20 mph southeast wind.

COMMENT: Tue Nov 25 17:01:20 GMT 1997

I won't open up just yet as moisture still blowing over from eastern cloud bank.

COMMENT: Tue Nov 25 18:34:13 GMT 1997

Conen's delivered all of the RISE shipment late yesterday afternoon.

I had them stack it up next to door and cover it with MLSO supplied plastic sheeting. Just finished moving all of the "small" boxes into dome. The two large crates will remain outside, covered up, until Roy and Kim arrive. Both are too large for one person to move inside, one won't fit thru the door unless laid on its side.

WEATHER COMMENT: Tue Nov 25 18:38:18 GMT 1997

Cirrus has been too thick for all but disk observations with CHIP and PICS.

WEATHER COMMENT: Tue Nov 25 18:45:28 GMT 1997

Clear sky may be moving over. Standing by with MKIII.
