CHIP PROBLEM COMMENT BY DARRYL: Sun Feb 13 22:46:34 GMT 2011
The symptoms of the problem that prevents "running" the observing program are the old error messages that we've seen intermittently since the birth of CHIP:

 readstatus: Interrupted system call [1] +Exit 1            Watchdog Optics 5
  .........................................................
 !!!Make Mechanism Control Computer ready then Run again!!!
  .........................................................
 [1] Killed             Optics > /dev/null

these messages appear on the Console window every time I try the "run" command, in the past it was typical to see these once or twice evry few days when starting up with "run". I can ping alakai (MCC) and the CHIP GUI monitor looks normal. I got the same error messages when I disconnected the network cable to the Ethernet box behind Alakai.

CHIP PROBLEM COMMENT BY DARRYL: Sun Feb 13 23:43:13 GMT 2011
I "tipped" into the Alakai boot parameters by stopping an autoboot, I tried re-entering the IP addresses for Nene and Alakai, it still crashes when I try to "run".

NOTE BY DARRYL: Mon Feb 14 00:51:32 GMT 2011
Continued planning and communications for the upcoming switchover of GONG and HVO onto our new network, also prepared specialized fiber optic GBIC modules and converters for the GONG FO side. Everything looks good equipment-wise, now we need to settle on security needs for HVO and GONG and get them to prep their equipment and collaborate with me for the actual switchovers. We want to cancel the old network at the end of this month.
