MKIV COMMENT BY BEN: Wed May 15 17:44:41 GMT 2013

For some odd reason, MK4 data appears blank/blocked in the NW quadrant. I see no optical reason why this would be the case. Manual shutter is all the way open and no obstructions were seen in the telescope tube.

MKIV COMMENT BY BEN: Wed May 15 17:46:33 GMT 2013

Sky also looks good, and bad data seems repeatable found in the same region of the barrel rotation

NOTE BY BEN: Wed May 15 17:51:27 GMT 2013

Guider having trouble in Dec. Lots of oscillations in the o-scope and error won't converge to zero (jumps between either large positive or large negative error)

A nice shear line in the clouds as developed very near MLSO extending from the saddle over the summit. Unfortunately MLSO keeps dipping into the fog, but NOAA weather tower is out in the sun.
