GENERAL COMMENT BY rose: Sun Feb 10 17:35:23 GMT 2019

It is extremely windy. The national weather service calls for gusts up to 140mph today for big island summits.

I went to check the GONG shelter for low temp alarm. The air conditioners are on but to high wind is overwhelming them.

I was blown off the boardwalk on my way over there.

I am leaving before the wind gets worse. It is difficult to stand outside. It was blowing the car all over this morning on the way here.
