SGS didn't send output voltages again this morning, when commanding closed loop. With the spar slightly off the sun outpu t voltages for both RA and DEC were railed at 10V so it looks like neither axis was moving.
This was visual confirmed by setting the guider to slew and +/-10V and seeing no motion in the RA gears.
Looking in the NEMA box the LEDS on the 5 and 24 volt power supplies were on and in the correct mode.
Motion was recovered when stopping/stating the SGS.exe software. Based on my reading of the code the only change this ma de was power cycling the copley amplifiers.

PM Blew off Kcor O1. Linear structure in the NW appears to be a human air that fell on the lens.
