Tue Feb 01 18:37:17 GMT 2022 Kcor Focus/alignment program exited

KCOR COMMENT BY mcotter: Tue Feb 01 18:41:18 GMT 2022

The sky continues to be quite bright but I was able to run the Kcor focus routine and g et a decently shaped parabola. When the synoptic view came up the images fairly decent.

KCOR COMMENT BY mcotter: Tue Feb 01 18:43:17 GMT 2022

Kcor now running.

SGS offsets: X (RA): 64, Y (Dec): 12.

Polarization checks good: Mid, Bright, Dark, Mid.

WEATHER COMMENT: mcotter: Tue Feb 01 22:44:20 GMT 2022

The sky has had scattered clouds across all areas of the sky from the start of the day.

I have had to pause the instruments several times due to clouds in the field of view and because of occasional very bright conditions in the viewing area. The clouds have for the most part dissipated and the bright conditions earlier observed have receded as well.

____end____

WEATHER COMMENT: mcotter: Wed Feb 02 00:26:26 GMT 2022

Orthographic clouds are moving up the western slope of Maunaloa, but so far are staying just to the west of the observing area.

GONG PROBLEM COMMENT BY mcotter : Wed Feb 02 01:46:45 GMT 2022

The GONG GUI images appear to have a problem. The GONG Expert GUI is not displaying information and the GONG gongTool GUI is all in the red for "General", "Instrument" & "Data". I tried closing and reopening the GUI's but to no avail. I suspect that there is an issue from the GONG operations side.

GENERAL COMMENT BY mcotter: Wed Feb 02 02:02:24 GMT 2022

Late in the day the dome auto advance controls don't control the dome movement properly

Turned off dome auto advance control and turned on manual advance. I aligned the dome on center with the spar.
