MKIV PROBLEM: Fri Jun 4 19:42:58 GMT 2004
Discovered that the cover over the large port just ahead of the sky transmission telescope sensor head was ajar, probably creating a serious light leak of ambient light onto the sensor. Snapped the cover MKIV PROBLEM: Fri Jun 4 19:47:40 GMT 2004
While reconfiguring the dome shutter, I discovered that the snap-on cover over the port just ahead of the sensor head on the sky transmission telescope was ajar. Checked the sky tx value and it was 1282. Snapped it back on and checked value, it was 1284 and later went down to 1282.
It appears that the leak of ambient light onto the sensor did not have a significant effect on sky transmission values.
