WEATHER COMMENT: waters: Sun Jun 18 16:14:02 GMT 2017

Temp 47F with windspeed at about 4-9mph from the South. Cirrus covering a good chunk of sky with some altocumulus on the Eastern horizon. Waiting for clearer skies before starting up.

GENERAL OBSERVATORY COMMENT BY waters: Mon Jun 19 01:27:44 GMT 2017

Did a bit of an inspection of the floor upstairs; it seems there are places where the orange ladder has pitted or removed the paint that's on the floor. Mostly by the Nema boxes. I had also propped open the dog house door to get air flow without opening the dome incase we got into some fog and the door stop I had used also brought up a little bit of paint.

GENERAL OBSERVATORY COMMENT BY waters: Mon Jun 19 01:31:50 GMT 2017

The sky remained covered the entire day. Luckily no low clouds but the cirrus and altocumulus has covered the sky quite thoroughly. Here's to hoping for better skies tomorrow.
